NEW Business

Matt Haggstrom went over the program he has been developing for competition, called Netcompetitor. The discussion covered the requirement of exporting to the NRA, Handicaps, places and handling extra shooters. It also covered concerns of information that is available and the interaction with the new social media.

Note the personal information is not visible to the public and only entered via secure log ins.

Motion (Don Jordon) to look at the program through a test run to see if this meets our expectations.
